

Highlights magazine has been around for a long time. And they have been publishing the Goofus and Gallant segment all along which illustrates situational choices for children to consider which is better, even if it's harder, when the Golden Rule is applied.

Here is an example. In the panels below, draw a Goofus and Gallant comic that you make up, or that illustrates something that you have experienced.

YOUR Goofus and Gallant Moments

 "I feel like Goofus when I forget to put things back where they belong." Aramis, Age 11, Connecticut	"I felt like Goofus when I ripped my sister's homework." Bob, Age 9 British Columbia, Canada	"I felt like Goofus when I peeked at the next trivia cards after my mom left the room." Cecelia, Age 8, Virginia
